The radio telephone link was the connection between Inish Turk and the mainland. That connection was to the telephone switchboard in Killadoon. My granny Bernie Coyne operated the switchboard in Killadoon from 1976 to mid-eighties when it went automatic. The Post Office continued on until November 2010 when my granny retired.

Sayings

The devil finds work for idle hands.
Too many cooks spoil the broth.
Bad cess to you/them/him/her.
