WEATHER

FEB 1947 “the Great Snow”
snow over six feet fell. Frost also struck that year. It took a few months for everything to get back to normal.

A big freeze happened in the mid 1950’s. It lasted a good while. Lakes and any still water was well frozen over.

The big flood happened on the night of August 31st/September 1st 1974. Carlowmisky bridge collapsed, bridge at Killen was swept away. Other small bridges were also washed away.
The big CIE bus had to stop bringing pupils to secondary school. Mini buses took over.
