"The whole is greater than the sum of its parts" So says Aristotle and Louisburgh HQ

Congratulations!

To the Louisburgh Minors and the Minor management team on reaching the Final of the West Mayo A Championship.

They beat Breaffy by one point in an exciting semi-final that was not for the faint hearted.

Our sources tell us that Louisburgh Minors haven't reached a West Mayo A Championship Final since 1962. Reaching the final comes as a result of months of hard work and dedication by players, managers and parents.

We wish them well in the final which will take place after the All Ireland football final on Sept 22nd.

Festival of the Pirate Queen... ...up-date

So it's nearly time for the festival – Louisburgh's Festival Day is only a week from today.

Preparations are flying along and the Festival of the Pirate Queen organising Committee are running a few competitions in the coming week – Keep your ears and eyes peeled for Midwest radio, Facebook and the Western People.

In fact, the Facebook competition is already up and running so please participate and share with friends. The address is;

<https://www.facebook.com/Piratequeenfestival>

Don't forget the costume making work-shop in HQ on Sunday 8th (tomorrow!) from 2 to 5pm and YES! You get to wear your costumes all day on the 14th – there WILL be prizes!

Louisburgh's New Bridge

Likened by Cllr. Austin Francis O'Malley to San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge, work on our new Louisburgh Bridge is well under way as you might just have noticed - have there ever been traffic lights in Louisburgh before?

This gateway to more of our stunning Mayo coastline, Inishturk, Clare Island, the Delphi Valley, Leenane and Connemara, is a very important feature of the town and if you can't wait to see the finished article (and haven't already) drop in to Louisburgh HQ to look at the plans and architect's vision.
